Twin City Fan Companies Announces Promotion of Michael McCann to President

MINNEAPOLIS, MN — Twin City Fan Companies (TCFC), a privately-held global leader of air moving equipment manufactured in South Dakota and Tennessee, today announced the promotion of Michael McCann to President. Michael Barry will remain Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board.

McCann joined TCFC in 2019, serving as the company's Sr. Vice President of Sales & Marketing with responsibility for the TCF, Aerovent and Clarage business units.

"During his time with TCFC, Mike's contributions have been invaluable to not only navigating through the global pandemic and the unprecedented supply chain challenges, but also in positioning the business for future growth," said Michael Barry, CEO of Twin City Fan Companies. "He is a seasoned leader with significant experience working with large publicly traded and privately held companies, operating efficiently at scale and delivering value to shareholders. Mike is a trusted advisor and valuable member of my executive team, and I look forward to the ongoing positive impact he will make as we advance the company in 2022 and beyond."

As President, McCann will be responsible for the successful execution of TCFC's growth strategy, customer satisfaction and service delivery.

"I'm excited to assume this new role and for the future of the company," said McCann. "We have an exceptionally talented team that is focused on taking decisive actions to transform the business, continuing to innovate our products in new and diverse ways, and unlocking future growth opportunities. We are determined to improve our customer's experience and I believe we are taking the right steps to move the business forward."

McCann, a University of Minnesota graduate, has a distinguished history of executive leadership positions including an 18-year career at Xerox Corporation. Most recently, McCann was Sr. Vice President of Sales & Marketing for AmesburyTruth, a leading supplier of components to the window and door industry.
